MOTION

On October 23, 2024, the Court called for responses to the petitions for rehearing or rehearing en banc that have been filed by the intervenors, Rio Grande LNG, LLC and Texas LNG Brownsville, LLC. The petitioners who challenged the underlying FERC orders have not consented to the filing of any amicus briefs in this case. Governor Greg Abbott respectfully requests the Court's leave or invitation to file a short amicus brief in support of rehearing or rehearing en banc. See FED. R. APP. P. 29(b)(2); D.C. CIR. R. 35(f).

As suggested by the Court's sua sponte call for responses, the panel opinion departs from D.C. Circuit precedent on a question of exceptional importance. See FED. R. APP. P. 35(a)(1)–(2). For decades, this Court's remand-without-vacatur analysis in agency cases has “depend[ed] on the seriousness of the order's deficiencies . . . and the disruptive consequences of an interim change that may itself be changed.” Allied-Signal, Inc. v. NRC, 988 F.2d 146, 150–51 (D.C. Cir. 1993). In the amicus brief accompanying this motion, Governor Abbott seeks to improve the Court's remedial calculus by explaining why yet another notice-and-comment round—on top of what already took place before TCEQ and FERC—is not worth the massive economic disruption that vacatur would cause to Texas’s economy in general and to the Rio Grande Valley in particular.

Respectfully submitted.

GREG ABBOTT
Governor of Texas
